4 (2x2) Days Basic Relaxation Assessment Course

This therapy is named after Tom Bowen, a self-taught therapist in Geelong, Victoria, Australia. He was said to treat as many as 13,000 people per year with great results.

This course will teach his basic technique and show how it can be used either on its own or with existing skills to change people's lives for the better. The course is suitable for those with no existing therapy qualifications, as well as therapists who would like a new, deeper understanding of Bowen Therapy. In developing this course, Ross Emmett has the approval of both the late Tom Bowen's daughter and the recommendation of Romney Smeeton, Mr Bowen's student for five years and his long-time friend. Ross wants to take the therapy back to its simple beginnings, as therein lies its power.

The complete course is taught over four days, where the first part is given to learning the basic techniques and body relaxation skills and the second part will show more specific corrections for a range of issues. Part 2 is scheduled for 11th & 12th November 2017.
